The Financial Question

The ways and means committee of the House is busily engaged in preparing to cover the whole financial question and have been engaged lately in the consideration of what effect the tax on banks and savings institutions in the matter of tax on circulation and deposits will have upon the revenues of the country Reports of the California savings banks appeared before them and present rather surprising statements accompanied with statistics regarding the inequality of operation of the internal revenue tax upon deposits in savings banks of that State as compared with other portions of the United States It appears that the banks of that State of this character having no capital stock pay a little over one tenth of the entire tax derived from all the States and Territories to those banks of savings that have capital under certain conditions Deposits of $2 000 and under are exempt as is the case in savings banks having capital One of the conditions is that the interest is not less than at the rate of 4½ per cent The interest may be bond capital California banks claim that this limit of 8 per cent of capital operates unfairly toward them for no capital can be obtained at that low rate and inasmuch as there is paid to depositors there more than double that paid to depositors here that the same rule should be applied to them and they should be permitted to have the benefit of exemptions by allowing a proportionate amount.

The Other Side of the Chinese Question.

WASHINGTON May 23—Every member of the Senate has received by mail from San Francisco anonymous pamphlets arguing what is styled the other side of the Chinese question in California and elaborately denying nearly all the allegations of the San Francisco anti Chinese mass meeting Nothing is given as to the authorship or publishers of this effusion it being submitted simply in the name of the friends of right justice and humanity It contends that the Chinese number less than one eighth of the population of San Francisco and one thirteenth of the population of the State argues that Mongolian cheap labor is desirable challenges effective testimony to sustain the charges that the Chinese in California consist to any extent of slaves or criminals and generally argues that their presence is a blessing to the interests of California and the country at large

Nomination of Cameron

A Times editorial on Cabinet changes speaks favorably of Pierrepont and Taft. As for McDonald Cameron of Pennsylvania he is a gentleman who has been chiefly known hitherto as a political wire puller In that capacity he may have displayed enough executive talent to mark him out as a desirable person to sit in the Cabinet as Secretary of War Pennsylvania politics can hardly be said to furnish a very elevated school for administrative ability but Cameron may turn out to be a better man than might be inferred from his associations It has been generally asserted that the Pennsylvania delegation was to be used at Cincinnati chiefly for the purpose of securing Cameron a seat in the Cabinet of the next Republican President Though the prize has been virtually attained without waiting for a new Administration it is hardly likely that the mission of Pennsylvania at Cincinnati will be materially modified The astute gentleman who will manipulate the 58 votes of that State will be as desirous as ever to find who is to be the winning man and to earn his gratitude by throwing at a critical moment the Pennsylvania vote in his favor

The Sun is peculiarly bitter and sarcastic and has several short articles on the subject It has for some time seemed probable that Taft would not answer Grant's purpose as Secretary of War He is a straightforward up and down man and not available for jobs Such a man in the place of Belknap could only make trouble for such a President as Grant, and accordingly he is moved out He will also make a respectable Attorney General and in that post he cannot interfere so much with the little operation on which Grant's comfort so greatly depends.

The nomination of Pierrepont is to be taken we suppose as the reward for the valuable services he recently rendered Grant, in certifying before the chamber of commerce in this city that Grant is not a common thief anyhow He is in many respects an improvement on Schenck The Senate which rejected Dana hastened to confirm the courtly and accomplished Pierrepont

The nomination of Don Cameron is not one that will be approved by reforming Republicans but that probably makes no difference Cameron has long been hankering for a place in the Cabinet and his nomination doubtless settles the question whether the Pennsylvania delegates to Cincinnati will vote for Conkling or Blaine

The Herald says The President has done at last what the Herald strongly advised him to do nearly two months ago and the effect is electric The appointments made yesterday are not only the greatest sensation, but the most important event which has yet happened in connection with the Presidential canvass Latterly there has been much wobbling in the party The President's action yesterday is a command for headquarters to combine Republicans everywhere These new appointments though made on the unimpeachable grounds of personal fitness will contribute to the success of Conkling's canvass. Taking them in their order and beginning with Judge Pierrepont it is well known that this gentleman has not favored Conkling's nomination He now goes abroad where he can have no influence Taft who was supplanted last year in Ohio by Hayes does not favor the Presidential hopes of his successful rival and the Department of Justice is in the hands of an able lawyer who will indorse the President's choice, which Pierrepont did not But the most significant of these appointments is that of Don Cameron whose own influence and that of his shrewd and sagacious father will be actively exerted in favor of the New York Senator The fifty eight delegates of the great State of Pennsylvania can now be as surely counted on for Conkling as those of New York The President can control nearly all the Southern delegates and after the first ballot or two they will vote in a body for Conkling The knowledge that this is to be the case will help him in the West and insure him a majority on the 3d or 4th ballot

The Tribune says that Grant has made so many bad appointments, there is always more or less surprise when he makes a good one Pierrepont is not bold enough but is an improvement on Schenck After speaking favorably of Taft, the writer continues, but J Donald Cameron—this is a nomination of which it is difficult to speak with patience Don Cameron never rendered any public service which entitles him to be advanced to one of the most honorable and responsible offices in the nation His appearance in public has been only as a managing and bargaining politician a packer of conventions and manipulator of rings but his name is known all over the United States He is known as the son and heir of a man who during a long and dishonorable life made corruption the business of his existence who had bought an office at the cost of disgrace brought reproach upon every cause to which he has attached himself and made the politics of his own State a hissing and a scorn to all the world and as Simon Cameron grows old in iniquity it is notorious that he brings forward Don Cameron as his representative and successor, Don has all the business shrewdness which distinguishes the family, and in his connection with the Mackay ring he has developed a capacity for intrigue and watchfulness over the main chance which must warm the cockles of the old man's heart. When the Camerons took possession of the Pennsylvania Republican convention a few weeks ago and went through the absurd performance of pledging it to Hartranft all the world read the announcement that Simon offered the commonwealth for sale once again as he had done many times before We have no right to be surprised that Grant should start up so quickly with a bid but it is a profound disappointment that the Senate of the United States in headlong haste should make itself a party to such a transaction

The World says We shall not be so cruel as to say that Pierrepont will find himself more at home in the legation to England than in the Department of Justice but Pierrepont is too close an observer of the currents of public opinion not to have long since discovered that his career as a Cabinet officer has not been absolutely successful He has been so fortunate and skillful in the administration of his private affairs that he will be in no danger from temptations which were so fatal to his predecessor at the court of St James The writer praises Taft and continues Cameron, though not a lawyer is a man of much more than common ability and not unequal to a Cabinet position in the administration of any President

Indiana Political Campaign

The Tribune's Washington special says The Indiana campaign will be begun in Washington by an attack on Orth He is accused of being corruptly interested while in Congress and with writing an improper letter to the Secretary of State relative to Venezuelan affairs Orth denies writing the letter

Cameron for Vice President

The Times Washington special says The friends of Senator Cameron of Pennsylvania are quietly at work in his interest for his nomination as Vice President They claimed to be much cheered by recent news from distant States.

Don Cameron's Nomination

The Tribune's Washington special says Assuming that Don Cameron's nomination was the selling price of Pennsylvania's vote for Conkling, it should be taken that the old gentleman deliver the goods Many Pennsylvania politicians say he can not He adds the Don is generally regarded as a gentleman of remarkable executive ability but otherwise he has little recommending him for the place Others claim his mismanagement as executive officer of the Northern Central railroad elicited a vote of censure from the board of directors

The Blaine Investigation Postponed.

The sub judiciary committee has postponed until further examination of witnesses on the charges against Blaine who is still confined to his bed by sickness

Mr. Orth being Examined

[illegible] Orth of Indiana U S Minister to Austria [illegible] this morning before the sub committee of the committee on foreign affairs in relation to the award made by the Venezuela mixed commission in which his name had been mentioned in testimony previously given by Seth Driggs of New York as having acted as attorney to procure from the State Department the payment of seven per cent disbursement on a large number of these certificates withheld from Driggs by the American commissioner Talmadge He explained fully to the committee his connection with the matter His first knowledge of the Venezuela commission was when the Venezuelan government in 1871 protested against their validity alleging fraud in the commission The committee on foreign affairs of which Orth was then a member investigated the charges and unanimously reported in favor of the validity of the awards Afterwards when Orth was not a member of Congress and when he had no idea of again being in Congress he accepted employment as an attorney of Stilwell and Talmadge to assist them in having their percentage paid by the Venezuelan government under protest on the awards which was then in the State Department and subsequently procuring the passage of a law by Congress conferring award In this matter he acted and was paid as the attorney for Stillman & Talmadge His services were rendered while he was not a member of Congress and terminated before he took his seat in the subsequent Congress in 1873 That ended his professional connection with the matter but in July 1873 he then being a member of Congress elect he had on behalf of Talmadge corresponded with the State Department on the subject of the payment of instalments on the certificates held by Talmadge This however he had not done in his professional character He identified the correspondence a copy of which was in the hands of the committee The name of Talmadge does not appear in it as the person for whom he was acting but the name of Thomas Brown does and Orth's explanation is that Talmadge must have written to him that Brown was the holder of these certificates Orth sends in to day his resignation as minister, and proceeds to Indiana to attend to the canvass in that State where he is Republican candidate for Governor

Transfer of Cabinet Offices

WASHINGTON May 23—The transfer of the war portfolio to Cameron and the Attorney Generalship to Taft will not take place until some time early next month Judge Pierrepont to day said he would not formally accept the English mission until he retires from his present office Pierrepont had an interview with Judge Taft to day when it was arranged that the latter should remain in the war office until the former retires from the Department of Justice Cameron therefore will not be called upon to accept the office formally for about two weeks

When Gen Schenck returned home the President tendered the English mission to Pierrepont who declined it Some two or three weeks ago the President again tendered it to him and urged him to accept it which upon reflection and consultation with friends he decided to do The President seems to have sent the nomination to the Senate yesterday earlier than had been previously arranged in order to give Conkling the benefit of Cameron's official power during the time before the meeting of the Cincinnati convention

Waiting for Pierrepont.

It is probable that until the arrival of Judge Pierrepont at the Court of St James nothing of a definite character will be done by our government in relation to the existing misunderstanding upon the provisions of the extradition treaty which are at present altogether inoperative Immediately upon Minister Pierrepont's arrival in England or as soon thereafter as practicable correspondence will commence upon the subject of the formation of a new treaty

Major Mendell to be Allowed to Accept Civil Service.

The Secretary of War in view of the opinion rendered yesterday by the Attorney General has decided that Major Mendell may accept employment of the board of San Francisco water commissioners without prejudice to his army commission He has telegraphed permission to Mendell accordingly

Treaty with China.

The House committee on commerce heard an argument from Representative Page in advocacy of the concurrent resolution recently introduced by him requesting the President to propose an additional article to the treaty with China, which shall reserve to each country the right to regulate restrict or prevent the immigration of the subjects or citizens of one country into the other The committee subsequently authorized Representative Page to report the resolution to the House for passage with an amendment requesting the President to negotiate for an additional article substantially as follows The United States of America do hereby reserve the right to regulate restrict or prevent the immigration of Chinese subjects into the United States except for commercial pursuits and reciprocally the Emperor of China reserves the right to regulate restrict or prevent the immigration of citizens of the United States into the empire of China except for commercial pursuits.

Page and Piper say the committee would consent to report the resolution without amendment allowing Chinese immigration for commercial pursuits but they believe its adoption by Congress in this form will accomplish the desired purpose as it evidently contemplates a strictly commercial convention and they have no doubt that Secretary Fish will cause the unmistakable language to be inserted in the article and guard against all misconstruction

Senator Sargent on the other hand emphatically expresses the opinion that the passage of this resolution would be a positive obstacle to attainment of relief from present raids He believes it would be construed to cover Coolie immigration to an extent practically unlimited and calls attention to the fact that it would certainly prevent the enactment of his bill which provides that not more than 10 Chinese passengers shall be admitted in any one vessel It is his purpose to press his bill and also his pending resolution for a radical change in the treaty as soon as the Senate resumes the consideration of legislative business, now checked by the impeachment trial

Representative Wiggington made an argument before the House public lands committee to day in advocacy of his bill to confirm title to the State school indemnity selection and the committee unanimously decided to recommend its passage and will report it to the House at the first opportunity Wiggington also argued in favor of his bill to correct the survey of Rancho Ride La Cran

Walla Walla and Columbia Counties to Belong to Oregon.

The House committee on Territories adopted the favorable report made by Wiggington as sub committee on Lane's bill to annex Walla Walla and Columbia counties to the State of Oregon and authorized him to report it to the House for passage

Successor to Minister Orth.

WASHINGTON May 23—The resignation of Minister Orth has been accepted The four most prominent persons named as his successor are ex Gov Ward of New Jersey ex Rep Kellogg of Connecticut Dr Bowman of New York and Mr Post present consul general at Vienna The appointment will be made this week

Abstraction of Documents by Fitzhugh.

Ex doorkeeper Fitzhugh when he vacated his office yesterday carried away with him certain valuable records He also went to the document room and asking to be shown several index boxes showing the number of documents and books drawn by and still belonging to each member and these being produced he coolly took them and placing them under his arm walked off All efforts to get them back have been unavailing The Speaker pro tem has directed the sergeant at arms of the House to take steps to recover the records Fitzhugh says he has important information which will make Democrats tremble and injure party interests if it becomes known He intimates that he may use it to get even with those who have disgraced him

Louisiana Federal Officer Investigation

Ferguson was examined at great length again to day on the Louisiana matters but nothing new was elicited Telegrams were read from Casey Herring and others declaring and showing Ferguson's statements false During the day the sub committee visited the treasury department with the witness to identify the bogus pay rolls and reported that although about six hundred vouchers were produced by the treasury department and examined by the witness he was unable to identify any but those [illegible] own [illegible] Haskins resigned and Wood [illegible] was appointed on the committee in his place The committee then adjourned to meet in New Orleans Saturday the [illegible] and will start to-morrow

Effect of Don Cameron's Nomination.

NEW YORK May 23—The Presidential canvass has assumed a new interest since the cabinet reorganization Some of Simon Cameron's friends doubt Don's acceptance or that Simon has committed himself thus early to Conkling They [illegible] think [illegible] appointment was simply the President's bid for Conkling at the [illegible] of a bargain [illegible] However the threat [illegible] Conkling [illegible] the Republican Independents [illegible] who are [illegible] for the [illegible] By advance [illegible] Conkling [illegible] administrative [illegible] new impulse to the Bristow [illegible] which 200 votes are [illegible] Conkling, [illegible] demonstration against him is believed to be [illegible] from the [illegible] leadership and the evident [illegible] Board An undercurrent rumor is that August Belmont is the money power behind the [illegible] Belmont is a shrewd political manager his selection if supported by his purse in a proper method must satisfy the convention that Tilden can not get his party vote in New York if nominated The opposition to Tilden is apparently concentrating on Bayard who is credited with greater sincerity as a reformer and ability as a statesman

The Times Washington special says Nearly all agree that whatever the motive of Cameron's nomination its result would injure Conkling. There is a sentiment that [illegible] among the people but the politicians are in favor of selecting some one candidate without the aid of the administration Conkling will be put in the attitude of one man against all the others who desire the nomination The damaging cry of anybody to beat Blaine or anybody to beat Bristow will become anybody to beat Conkling. Blaine's friends claim he will be particularly benefited but most think the contest will be intensified so much as to insure the election of a compromise candidate The nomination is regarded as likely to exert an influence in behalf of Bristow on the ground that the feeling which demands a marked departure from the present order of things will be merely increased among the people Several of the best known Republicans do not hesitate to say strongly that unless the nomination at Cincinnati is such as to draw a sharp line between things present and things future politically the people will see that the change demanded is brought about by the selection of St Louis and Cincinnati

Alaska Fur Seal Islands Management.

WASHINGTON, May 23—The committee on ways and means will to-morrow hear arguments of counsel for various parties interested in the investigation of matters relative to the lease and present management of the Alaska Fur Seal Islands J Black appears for Louis Goldstone of San Francisco who claims he is entitled to the award of the lease instead of the Alaska Seal Fur Company The committee has refused to examine further witnesses for the reason that one of the parties in San Francisco preferred the charges which were to be proved by them has recently written to the committee withdrawing all of those charges and stating, in an accompanying affidavit, that they were without foundation and were the result of a conspiracy to make money out of the company The testimony already taken however is very voluminous Among the witnesses who have been examined are Secretary Bristow ex Secretaries Boutwell and Richardson Linancend and Jones, chiefs of the navigation and customs divisions of the Treasury Departments, General Miller and H M Hutchinson of the Alaska Commercial Co, Special Treasury Agents Elliott Bryant Moore and Bryant General Thric Judge McKoskle and Louis Goldstone

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON May 23—Conkling from the committee on foreign relations reported with amendments the House joint resolution suggesting the interposition of the United States to secure the release of J O McCondon now confined in an English prison He asked for its present consideration

Edmunds said he would like to examine the resolution and asked it be laid over until to morrow so ordered

After reports on a number of bills of important character the Senate recommended the consideration of articles of impeachment against W W Belknap with closed doors

Before reaching any decision the doors were reopened and at a quarter to 6 o'clock the Senate adjourned

House.

Immediately after the reading of the Journal the House went into committee of the whole (Cox in the chair) on the naval appropriation bill

Piper offered an amendment relating to the navy yards at Brooklyn Mare Island Kittery Charleston Pensacola Norfolk and League Island for general purposes and the yards at Washington for manufacturing purposes only and reinstating New London as a naval station He said that he was opposed to breaking up the navy yards of the United States and that if the Democratic party attempted to do so the navy yards would be the Thermopylae of that party

Luttrell inquired the advantages of retaining Mare Island and charged Piper with offering an amendment which he knew that he (Luttrell) intended to offer as Mare Island was within his district.

Piper said he knew nothing of the kind

Waite opposed the discontinuance of the New London navy yard

Lewis of Alabama spoke in support of his amendment offered yesterday

Randall proposed as a substitute to the section proposing to abolish certain navy yards a commission to consist of five naval officers, to examine and report what yards if any can be dispensed with and report at the next session of Congress This was carried by a large majority, and the committee rose and the bill passed

The general appropriation bill was discussed for a time and then the House adjourned

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

England and the Conference.

LONDON May 23—A Paris correspondent telegraphs that England has communicated to the foreign representatives at London the text of her reply declining to agree to the conclusions of the Berlin conference The point to which England principally objects is the decision of the three Powers that in case their friendly intervention should not effect a pacification the six Powers, unitedly would have to consider other and more efficacious measures. England thinks this declaration contains a principle of armed intervention and is a menace to the liberty and independence of Turkey It is stated that negotiations have already been commenced for the modification of this declaration so as to induce England to sign the proposals of the conference

The Standard to day in a leading editorial on the questions at issue between the British and American governments arising out of the Winslow case says on two points it seems perfectly certain that Fish is in the right while on the third the construction of the act of parliament of 1870 his view is that which to mere unprofessional common sense the words in question appear to bear out The Standard takes the same view regarding the government's true course as does the Pall Mall Gazette that is that the question whether the Ashburton treaty is excepted from the operations of the act of 1870 should be referred to the courts

The London Times on Pierrepont.

The Times to-day says, The appointment of Pierrepont to the ambassadorship here is probably intended to satisfy those who look for high personal character rather than party service or political skill as qualifications for office but it must be admitted that the appointment does not carry so distinct a meaning as it would have done a year ago previous to the Babcock trial nor is it in other ways so desirable as that of Dana The article concludes In the Babcock affair there is really nothing more than errors of judgment to be alleged against ex Attorney General Pierrepont In the negotiations relative to extradition his legal capacity and [illegible] which he obtained general credit will be useful to the United States and will not lack appreciation here

British Parliament.

LONDON May 23—In the House of Commons this afternoon Cross Secretary of State for the Home Department in replying to Sir William Vernon Harcourt's question as to whether the House would have an opportunity to consider the correspondence in the Winslow case between Great Britain and the United States before Winslow's final release said that on application of the government Winslow had again been remanded until the 11th proximo that negotiations were still pending, and it was unusual to communicate State papers until the correspondence had been concluded but under the special circumstances of this case the papers up to the present date would be submitted to the House

Injunction Suit vs. the Central Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO May 23—The injunction suit of A Coolot against the Central Pacific company to restrain the company from paying the interest of the California Pacific bonds will be argued Friday. To day the allegation of the defense that the plaintiff at a meeting of stockholders on July 13, 1871 by his note endorsed the guarantee by the Central Pacific of the payment of said interest was traversed by the affidavit of the plaintiff showing that he gave one Stuart a limited proxy to vote his shares at a meeting for election of officers only The official record of the meeting was read by the defense showing that the plaintiff's proxy voted for the resolution endorsing the payment of the interest which the plaintiff claimed he was not authorized to do The affidavit also set forth that the contract was entered into between Stanford & Co and M S Latham for 70 101 shares of the California Pacific which were to be paid for in $10 000 bonds of that corporation to the amount of $1 570 000 having 20 years to run and bearing interest at 6 per cent per annum, that these bonds were delivered to Latham ostensibly as payment of the contract to build and equip a railroad in Ieola county from Sacramento to Davisville which being injured by flood, the Contract and Finance Co were afterwards awarded $1,600,000 for repairing

LETTER FROM MR VILLARD

OFFICE OF THE OREGON AND CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY
PORTLAND Oregon May 21 1876

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

A short time since you published in your valuable paper an editorial in which it was stated in substance that the construction of the Oregon and California Railroad, as far as it is in operation, ought not to have cost more than two millions of dollars

No one has a better knowledge of the sins of omission and commission of the former management than myself, and nothing is further from me than to take the defense of the great wrongs inflicted upon those who furnished the money to build the road But for reasons appearing below I feel called upon to correct the erroneous impression upon which you labor in regard to the amount of money required to construct the road from Portland to Roseburg

For this purpose I beg to submit the following letter

PORTLAND, May 21, 1876.

H VILLARD Esq, President O & C R R Co.—My Dear Sir About three years ago by request of certain gentlemen sent to Portland at that time in the interest of the holders of the bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, I made a somewhat elaborate and exhaustive estimate of the actual cost of constructing and equipping the road

The estimate for the greater portion of the road was based upon my own personal knowledge of the amount and cost of the work as it had been performed under my own supervision The cost of that portion of it that had been done either previous to my taking charge of the work (about twenty miles) or of such expenditures, the account of which were at that time not accessible to me, I estimated in accordance with my own best judgment what such work would cost taking into consideration the actual and unavoidable conditions under which it had been done

By your own request I furnish you herewith with an extract of the statement made by me at that time

Length of road from Portland to Roseburg	197¼ miles.
Length of sidetrack	13½
Total length of track	211 miles.
CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT
Grading	$ 798,140
Bridging	671,132
Ties	181 430
Iron	1,878,385
Track	127,984
Buildings including the docks at Portland	180,202
Right of way fencing telegraph engineering, law &c	234,515
Equipment	411 020
	$4,182,020

This estimate does not include the purchase of a considerable amount of land at East Portland as the same was incurred in view of only the future necessities of the road, neither the many, almost daily incidental expenses incurred outside of the engineering department, nor the discounts in the sale of bonds, nor the interest paid upon the same during the construction of the road while the same earned little or nothing (and which last item alone would amount to over half a million of dollars), which all are really legitimate charges in the construction of the road Yours respectfully,

H. THIELSEN

If there should be any doubt of the strict correctness of the foregoing statement every opportunity will be gladly given by me to test it. I will add that the cost of the road, as shown in Mr Thielsen's letter, compares favorably with that of roads in the East and in California, built at the same time, as will be affirmed by any railroad expert. I have a particular object in placing this subject in the right light before the public at this time

For some time past the freight rates on the road have been altogether too much in favor of shippers The company cannot afford to carry at the low rates prevailing in 1875-'76 any longer. The net earnings of the road for 1875 were only $205,000: that is a little over 4 per cent on the money actually invested, and less than 2 per cent. on the amount of outstanding bonds No one with ordinary sense of justice can maintain that the holders of the obligations are not entitled to a better income. Such cannot be obtained, however, under the low rates heretofore charged. The company would be glad to do a larger business at lower rates, but as long as the business of the country is so limited that, except during the wheat shipping season the road is not worked to one-fourth of its capacity, so as to return barely the operating expenses, we cannot be justly expected to transport at rates yielding an income of less than one-half the usual interest in this State. Moreover, we are about incurring large extra expenditures for the construction of a new bridge across the Clackamas and other necessary improvements.

We have comprehensive plans for the development of the transportation enterprises under our control, but we shall certainly abstain from making the large outlays incidental to their extension if we should find a disposition to dispute our right to receive what is really but a very moderate return upon the investments already made.

There was another statement in the leading article referred to calling for some comment on my part You made it appear substantially that the value of the land grant being the basis of the Oregon and California railroad enterprise, it was really the State that furnished the means of starting the latter by giving the lands donated by the U. S government to the company.

Now, so far from having been a benefit, the land grant has as yet proved only an unprofitable burden The aggregate cash outlay caused by the efforts to market the lands so far has been $100,000 while the actual total cash receipts to date have not exceeded $35,000, although we have had entire control of the land department of the company since the fall of 1874, managing it as economically as possible the expenditures have exceeded the receipts in that period by over $25,000

Nor can it be rightly maintained that the grant has a large prospective value The truth is, that only a very small per centage of the lands will ever prove saleable owing to their distance from the railroad and to their broken and hilly character We should be glad indeed to get rid of this elephant at a low price and invite bids from all quarters Respectfully yours

HENRY VILLARD,
President O & C R R Co.

PROUD OF HIS PASTOR.—An aged and excellent Christian man beloved by all who knew him, was recently bewailing the fact that his talented pastor whom he so much loved would persist in owning and driving fast horses, and even claimed to have some of the fastest and best in New England Talking with a friend the other day he said, 'Only think of it, he goes out to the milldam and drives fast there and even races, and they do say worse than that, he goes to the race course and drives his fast horses there It is too bad, isn't it?' 'I don't know about that' was the response 'but I know he goes to the track, for I saw him there the other day driving his favorite horse against another fine animal' The friend then proceeded at some length to describe a very closely contested and interesting race dwelling on the last portion of it where the animals were about even when he was interrupted by the inquiry 'Well, well how did it end? Who beat?' 'Who beat? Oh your parson' was the reply and a description was given of the magnificent closing spurt with which the race was won 'Did he beat?' said the now excited old gentleman 'are you sure he beat?' 'Yes' was the reply 'Good! That's good!' he exclaimed as his face beamed with joy 'That's almost too good to be true I know our pastor is true grit and I wish he wouldn't race horses But if he will race, I do love to have him win I love him so well I want to have him succeed in everything'—Boston Traveller

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

JEFFERSON, May 20, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Writing for the press is not my [illegible] but I wish to review a letter from Mr. F. Chenoweth published in the Mercury of 18th inst I have not read the letter [illegible] tempts to answer, and of course know [illegible] author or its contents, but surely Mr. [illegible] weth's own statements and [illegible] sufficient to convince any one that our [illegible] cultural College is in a most deplorable [illegible] tion. Having known Mr. Chenoweth [illegible] teen years, I gladly give him credit for some all important facts, nevertheless I [illegible] say it is strange, that he cannot see the vital points in their true light.

Mr. Chenoweth says, "There is another [illegible] ter and that is, that this school (Agricultural College) is run by the M. E. church [illegible] Now this is not the case." How he [illegible] this conclusion [illegible] his home and [illegible] is [illegible] concern in this matter, [illegible] to believe that he was [illegible] statement by self [illegible] tribute it to a [illegible] Certainly he [illegible] Legislature, and [illegible] ern Methodist [illegible] thus.

Every one must know, who [illegible] himself, that at the time this [illegible] cated in Corvallis, not only [illegible] South, was working [illegible] secure its [illegible] also. I care not to say [illegible] to the M. E. C. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1876.

WHY WAS DON CAMERON APPOINTED SECRETARY OF WAR?

It is said the appointment of Don Cameron is the price of Pennsylvania's support for Conkling for President. That it is hoped to make headway for Conkling by this move, is, in all probability, true. It is known that the President is bitterly opposed to Blaine, and that his choice for his successor is Conkling or Morton, with a decided preference for the former. But it is scarcely likely he hopes to buy Pennsylvania at the price of this appointment in the War Department. Doubtless the venerable Simon Cameron made a [illegible] of some sort by which his son received this honor, and it may be that a part of the consideration is the exerting of his influence for Conkling; but there are some other things to be remembered if one would arrive at a correct solution of the question of how Don got to be Secretary of War. When the President designated [illegible] Chandler as Secretary of the Interior, [illegible] angry. He growled so loud [illegible] whole country heard him; and [illegible] he became a little more circum[illegible] his hostility to the ap[illegible] has continued ever since. Cam[illegible] is a Republican Senator, and one of the kind of Republican Senators that the [illegible] can't well afford to lose. He is [illegible] politic, one of the shrewdest and [illegible] politicians of the party, [illegible] all this he has been always [illegible] a reliable friend of what[illegible] the Washington ring wished [illegible] in the present [illegible] the loss of such a man [illegible] and his coterie is no [illegible]. The opportunity pre[illegible] to heal up the partial breach [illegible] appointment and [illegible] and earnest sup[illegible] of old. Don Cam[illegible], and Simon is [illegible]

[illegible] the most natural explan[illegible] the securing of Cameron's [illegible] to the schemes of the [illegible] include his working [illegible] or Morton in the Cincinnati [illegible] is one of the known [illegible] "Can Cameron carry [illegible] of them? For [illegible] is too deeply tinc[illegible] heresies on the [illegible] to receive the support of [illegible] delegates. But Conk[illegible] to be sound as a nut on [illegible] would be supported by [illegible] with consis[illegible] of Pennsylvania were [illegible] to concentrate their pref[illegible]. But the politics of that [illegible] more completely under [illegible] manipulators than that of [illegible]. The skillful Simon, with [illegible] the Federal patronage [illegible] private fortune, both of [illegible] to use when a [illegible] may be able to [illegible] delegates from the [illegible] the ring candidate. He [illegible] will dare to say what [illegible] in Pennsylvania [illegible] for sur[illegible] who has watched [illegible] dirty Pennsyl[illegible] up as Conk[illegible] [illegible] will [illegible] the conven[illegible] [illegible] supposed.

[illegible] SALARY.

[illegible] to have com[illegible] blunder in his [illegible] the [illegible] of living has in[illegible] when the Presi[illegible] fixed at $25,000, as he [illegible] was established [illegible]. Mr. Horace White, [illegible] writers of the [illegible] has taken the trouble to [illegible] thorough overhauling, [illegible] of statistical facts [illegible] Wells' statement. [illegible] authority of Prof. Jevons [illegible] of 40 of the articles in [illegible] use, not including manu[illegible], lumber, fibers, [illegible], tea, coffee, dairy [illegible] 1792 and in 1865, shows [illegible] of 20 per cent in that [illegible] are added in this [illegible] articles and other [illegible] household furniture, [illegible] transportation, it would be [illegible] have been reduced still [illegible] the fact of the substitution [illegible] at a cost of eight or ten [illegible] the costly linen which [illegible] in vogue, signifies a great re[illegible] given sum of money will buy [illegible] necessities and comforts of [illegible] in 1793. The President [illegible] the bill reducing the salary of the [illegible] to the old figure, $25,000, on [illegible]. His facts were not facts, and [illegible] is therefore illogical. The [illegible] of the United State are willing their [illegible] shall be paid sufficiently [illegible] him to sustain the dignity of [illegible]; but they have not come to [illegible] that dignity to be of the royal [illegible] therefore they believe that with [illegible] salary and as much more [illegible] of perquisites, all the dignity [illegible] for the President of a republic [illegible] well maintained. The people are [illegible]. There is no reason why the Presi[illegible] of the United States and his family [illegible] be the leaders of a fashion of vul[illegible]. It is contrary to the gen[illegible] of the Government and to the princi[illegible] of good taste.

THE CAMERONS.

The Eastern press do not commend the appointment of Don Cameron with very [illegible] enthusiasm. The Democratic [illegible] gnash their teeth upon [illegible] and the Republican press [illegible] the announcement with silence, or [illegible] it by with the general remark that he is a man of good executive ability. It is not easy to perceive why any should expect an appointee to that position, under the present administration, to have any higher qualifications than "good executive ability." Good executive ability is what made the elder Cameron what he is, and though it could not prevent a Republican House of Representatives in 1862 from passing a resolution declaring him guilty of corruption in the office to which his son is just now appointed, it has stood him in good stead in many emergencies. Nothing short of the very best executive ability, backed by a long purse, could have enabled him to carry to success his schemes for self-promotion. It is said the son inherits the genius of his father. If the present House of Representatives inherits all the virtues of the Republican House of 1862, the executive ability of the young gentleman, in the matter of army contracts, may yet become a subject of national interest.

Happily the time has come when the citizen may vote as he thinks he ought, and not incur social disgrace or political proscription. Let each voter weigh every candidate on his ticket in the balance of sound reason, considering the fitness of the candidate for the duties of the particular office, and vote as his conscience then decides. It would be folly to vote for any candidate for the legislature who you have cause to believe would not in his action as a legislator as nearly as any other candidate in the field, reflect your own views. Think of what the particular candidate under consideration is likely to do with reference to the matter you deem most important, and let your decision on that matter control your vote. A Republican naturally wishes a Republican elected Senator, which will not be done if the Democrats have a majority in the legislature.

We are in receipt of three communications assailing the personal character of candidates on the Democratic ticket, each of which is accompanied by a request that the author's name be kept secret. No, thank you. We do not engage to keep that sort of secrets. If a writer has certain knowledge of the delinquencies he wishes exposed, he is the most suitable person in the world to expose them over his own signature; and if he has not such knowledge he has not a right to ask us to father his vague and uncertain stories. The personal character of candidates is certainly a proper matter for public discussion, and anybody who knows facts bearing on such discussion should have the opportunity extended to him by the press to present those facts to the public. But no one should wish others to be responsible for his statements in such matters.

Hon. James Speed, ex-Attorney General of the United States, who has, perhaps, been more intimately connected with the Republican party of Kentucky for years past than any other man in the State, says Bristow is by all odds the best candidate of the Republicans for the Presidency. He thinks, that unless the Democrats should make a very acceptable nomination, Bristow would be able to carry that State, notwithstanding the large majority the Democracy have. He says vast numbers of Democrats would cast their vote for Bristow. Morton is regarded by Mr. Speed as more acceptable to Kentucky Republicans than Conkling, but has no strength except the strict party vote, and would not command even that in full.

Richard B. Irwin, of the famous Pacific Mail lobby in giving his testimony in New York as to what was done with the money reputed to have been used in lobbying the subsidy through Congress, specifies two items which may be regarded as possessing more general interest than the rest. He says $30,000 was given to the "general election campaign fund of 1872," and "$25,000 for campaign expenses in California." And that's the way subsidies were got from the government."

The Salt Lake Tribune, a staunch Republican paper, expresses the feelings of the people of the entire country when it says: "We are all looking for more honesty in political life with the advent of a new President, and hope that the saturnalia of extravagance and corruption, with the new regime, will no longer disgrace the national capitol."

It is conceded on all sides that James A. Smith is the fittest candidate in the field for county-clerk. If all those who express that opinion vote for him on election day he will get many a Democratic vote.

Isaac W. Smith, the engineer who constructed the Locks at Oregon City, has been appointed one of the California railway commissioners by Governor Irwin.

A PRETTY CANARY STORY.—A lady living in State street has two female canary birds living in one cage, and each day there is a remarkable exemplification of the harmony, friendship and good will existing between them, which is rarely to be found in such cases. One of the birds has a brood of young ones in a nest and the other is working most industriously to hatch out a number of eggs. Occasionally the setting bird will leave her nest and go to feeding the young ones in the other nest, and the neighborly act is no sooner observed by the mother of the little ones than she plants herself on the eggs of the other one and remains there till her neighbor has concluded her feeding labors.—Concord Patriot.

A relic proposed to be sent to the Centennial is a large silver goblet "presented to General Washington by the Fairfax agricultural committee, for raising the largest jackass, 1792." After the exposition is over, this relic will be presented by unanimous consent to the father of Eli Perkins.

THE TURF.

"Turfman" who has recently made a trip to the East Portland race course, says: On arriving at the track which was formerly known as the Old Multnomah Track first laid out and opened by our old-time resident Ad Starr, I found many changes and improvements. First a grand stand two stories high 20x100 feet capable of seating five hundred spectators comfortably. The lower story is designed as a refreshment room and sitting room for ladies At each end the refreshment room is 20x60, well fitted and prepared for the purpose The ladies rooms are each 20x20 neatly furnished with carpets chairs etc. A long row of stalls have been erected by Messrs Owens and Holton twelve in number which I must say is the best I have seen in the State The new fencing is eight feet high About 400 yards of this has been completed with two inside quarter stretch fences 300 yards in length I next observed the judges', timers and reporters stands which are of neat but peculiar design The track is in splendid condition, and the various horses made their appearance to take exercise with that elastic tread so peculiar to thoroughbreds First came Osceola the favorite and probably the fastest horse in Oregon a beautiful dark bay with white legs, owned by Geo Coggan in charge of the successful trainer and rider Billy Leigh Next came the celebrated race horse Tom Merry, a bright bay and as he came bounding by he reminded us of a locomotive on a down grade throttle open and brakes off He is in charge of Billy Tennant one of Oregon's best trainers and we have no doubt that Billy will make a successful campaign with him Next came Billy Bigham a beautiful bright sorrel in charge of our eccentric friend Joe Crabb Billy looks well and if our friend brings him to the scratch in good fix he will make it troublesome for his competitors Mr Crabb has also a four year old in training the property of Mr George Waldron of The Dalles He is a sorrel by Norwich and a promising colt Following these came the thoroughbred horse Ophir, a light sorrel fifteen and a half hands in height Of this horse I know but very little In the coming races he will be, without doubt no trifling competitor Rose Mansfield came next a beautiful blood bay mare, in charge of the well known trainer Lute Lindsey, of Walla Walla Mr Lindsey has also in training several trotting horses, among which are Blue Mountain Boy, Parrott, Snow Storm and others Mr George Ross arrived on the track to day with the thoroughbred horse Amit from Walla Walla also, Billy Nutts, a celebrated half mile horse Many other horses are on the track and in training, among which is the trotting horse Mystery in charge of Tennant Others are arriving daily and from present appearances the best stable of horses will be gathered this Centennial year, that ever met in Oregon

BRIEF NOTES.

Slight rain last night

Columbia river is rising again

Decoration day next Tuesday.

Republican meeting this evening

Steamer arrived about 1 o clock this morning

Considerable buttonholing at the pic n c yesterday.

The brig Orient arrived at this port from San Francisco yesterday morning bringing 160 tons of assorted cargo

Capt Billy Smith was on hand yesterday and directed the course of the Stewart each way Capt Billy is a host at the wheel

The yachts Oregonian and Kate Pittock were up to the picnic grounds yesterday They did not reach the city till a late hour

The captain of the Centaur has been arrested for violating the passenger act in bringing to this port a larger number of Chinese passengers than allowed by law

A recently divorced woman who has been carrying on rather lively since she departed from her husband, returned some days ago to her former home The husband takes in the situation calmly, while the neighbors—particularly the ladies—are loud in their condemnation of the woman The locality is Holladay's Addition, and our information comes from a resident of the place

I. O. R. M.

The weather was simply delightful yesterday, and the usual postponement was out of order. Agreeable to announcement the steamer Annie Stewart with the barge Autocrat in tow, moved away from the foot of Washington street with the representatives from the various tribes of Red Men and their friends, numbering not less than three hundred souls The Portland Band struck up a lively air and amid waving of handkerchiefs from all sides, the party, bent on a day's pleasure, were off for Minnehaha Grove, on McMillan's farm, just this side of Oswego Arriving there, the excursionists debarked and the boat returned to the city bringing up another party though less in number, about three o'clock Dancing was the first part of the programme and then luncheon, followed by the customary oration, this time, delivered by Robert E. Rybee, Esq , after which dancing was resumed Late in the afternoon foot races were improvised The first, in which five entered, was won easily by Hosea Hamilton, distance 100 yards, over an extremely rough ground, Wm Butts second A fat man's race, same distance, for a pair of studs, was won by Milt Howe, against C K Harbaugh, in a close contest John Kearney and Hosea Hamilton ran over the same ground, two trials each being decided a tie These fleet-footed youths will try conclusions for coin, on local grounds, this week if arrangements can be made These races closed the day's pleasure at Minnehaha Grove, and the excursionists danced on the barge on the trip to Portland, which was reached at 7 P M precisely and everybody supremely happy

FIREMAN'S CELEBRATION AT ALBANY.

Under date of the 23d inst , a correspondent writing from Albany, furnishes the following account of the firemen's celebration at that place

The celebration and annual picnic of the Albany fire department to day was a grand success in every particular At about 9 o clock A M the beautiful steamer Occident of the Willamette Transportation and Locks Company arrived here with the Corvallis fire department accompanied by the Corvallis brass band and a large number of their friends the ladies being particulary numerous They were received by the Albany boys at the wharf and escorted to their headquarters

At 10 o clock the procession was formed in the following order

1. National Colors and Supports
2. Albany Mechanics Brass Band
3. Chiefs and Assistants of Albany and Corvallis Fire Departments
4. President Orator and Chaplain of the day
5. Albany Schools
6. Corvallis Brass Band
7. Corvalis Fire Department
8. Linn Engine Company No 2
9. Albany Engine Company No 1
10. Citizens generally

The procession moved through the streets of the city to a beautiful grove a short distance from the outside of the city where the exercises took place consisting of music by the bands singing by the Albany glee club a short but fervent welcome by Gen Brown, the President of the day, picnic dinner with regular and volunteer toasts base ball, croquet and numerous other amusements The whole was indeed a splendid success flattering to all concerned

At 5 o clock a department drill was had under the direction of Chief Engineer Webber and his able assistant Geo F Simpson and the celebration will close with a grand ball at the opera house under the auspices of Albany Engine Company No 1

The Corvallis fire department with their friends returned home on the Occident at 6 o clock P M , accompanied to the boat by the entire Albany fire department and an immense concourse of people

WANTED IT STRAINED —A tall gaunt-looking individual who at first and last glance would be taken to belong to the noble brotherhood of bull punchers walked up to the bar in a Main street saloon this forenoon, and laying down a smooth quarter called for whisky The barkeeper set out the bottle and the customer crossing his legs placing the forefinger of his left hand firmly on his coin and grasping the neck of the bottle with his right hand asked "Is this here stuff strained?"

"Strained!" said the barkeeper with an astonished look "strained of what?"

"Look a here muster" returned the ex manager "I ve got an ajid mother back in Missoury I cum out here to make a stake for the old gal and I han t got it yit Besides I was brought up religus, and my old marm told me never to die till I was prepared to face the music I ain t prepared to die and what I want to know is if the snakes is strained out of them air whisky —Reese River, Nev , Reveille

Few deciduous shrubs form more charming hedges in early summer than lilacs There is a large orchard enclosed by one at Henham a wire fence being added as a safeguard and most lovely it is when the lilacs are in blossom The only pruning required is thinning out the longest straggling shoots annually so as to keep the base thickly furnished with young growth Hedges of this kind should not be clipped, as in that case most of the bloom would be sacrificed and a stiff formal aspect imparted to them which would rob them of half their beauty —The Garden

BABY LAND

"How many miles to Baby land?"
"Any one can tell,
Up one flight,
To the right
Please to ring the bell!"

"What can you see in Baby land?"
"Little folks in white—
Downy heads,
Cradle beds,
Faces pure and bright!"

"What do they do in Baby-land?"
"Dream and wake and play,
Laugh and crow,
Shout and grow;
Jolly times have they!"

"What do they say in Baby-land?"
"Why, the oddest things;
Might as well
Try to tell
What a birdie sings!"

"Who is the queen of Baby-land?"
"Mother, kind and sweet;
And her love,
Born above,
Guides the little feet."

OBITUARY.

A[illegible] the emigrants of 1846 who came across the dry and dusty sage plains in search of homes in a then wild and comparatively unknown region, might have been found Frederic and Mary Ann [illegible] with their two little children. After arriving [illegible] around, they concluded to settle on [illegible] the beautiful Wallamet, just opposite [illegible] site of Butteville. After years of [illegible] toil and hardships incident to pioneer life on the frontier of an undeveloped country; [illegible] kept coming, the conditions of the country [illegible] kept improving, and [illegible] varying changes of fortune, and all the [illegible] common to life on this earth, [illegible] family of two increased to ten, they [illegible] to build up for themselves a comfortable [illegible] home, with little sickness [illegible]; with all the surrounding circumstances [illegible] favorable for perfect happiness as [illegible] to find in a human family. But [illegible] is not always the same side up. [illegible] the slayer of human hope must [illegible] their track, and on the 5th of July, [illegible], the community was shocked by the announcement that Prentiss Geer was dead. Their boy, ten years old, bright, intelligent, promising and very promising, the favorite of every [illegible] the idol of the household, in one short [illegible] a lifeless corpse, by accidental poisoning [illegible] with this, the unrelenting destroyer [illegible], and this time for little Eva [illegible] still, eight years of age, the living picture [illegible], sparkling, joyous, lovely innocence, [illegible] only of the household, but of all who [illegible]. On the 27th of September, 1873, the [illegible] was [illegible] by the news that little [illegible]. Whilst playing with some other [illegible] a little fire of rubbish, in the yard, [illegible] her clothes accidentally caught fire, [illegible] assistance could reach her she was [illegible] human help. And still not satisfied, [illegible] must come again, and this time [illegible] years of age, just in the flush and bloom [illegible]. Born, raised and educated in this [illegible] a genuine Oregonian. Of a tall, [illegible] and [illegible] in her move[illegible] and retiring in her disposition [illegible] to her friends, she possessed [illegible] those qualities whose influence [illegible] and felt and yet so difficult to describe [illegible] endeared her to a large circle of [illegible] sadly mourn her loss, and who will [illegible] her memory for many long years to [illegible].

[illegible], little Eva is gone, and Ella is gone. [illegible] of [illegible] the seldom [illegible] of one family. Thus the home of [illegible] and joy is [illegible] into a house of sad[illegible]; and although they are called [illegible] yet they mourn not, as [illegible] having a firm belief in [illegible] what is commonly [illegible] spiritualism, viz: that under [illegible] intelligent and comforting [illegible] may be had with friends who have [illegible] the [illegible] which, in theological [illegible] the Dark River of Death, [illegible] comfort in the thought:

[illegible] hope to meet them,
[illegible] days of life are fled;
[illegible] joy to [illegible] them,
[illegible] all tears are [illegible]

[illegible] silver coin is [illegible] as very [illegible]. It is not near so great as in [illegible]; on the 18th, quotations were 52½ [illegible] which is equal [illegible] to about [illegible]. The advance of a silver currency [illegible] are not making a [illegible] law of supply and demand [illegible] as in other departments [illegible]. An over[illegible] of [illegible] in its depreciation. A certain [illegible], and the wants [illegible] that amount. The government [illegible] the holders of its paper [illegible] for any other money ex[illegible] par. Those who send [illegible] currency for silver, [illegible] to 98c in coin is [illegible] that [illegible] to pay. But a solvent merchant who should propose to take up his [illegible] 12 to 15 per cent. discount would [illegible] as attempting to compromise his [illegible]. The San Francisco Bulletin, [illegible] is sound on the money [illegible] which [illegible] this coast, advances [illegible] if the Government had taken [illegible] by substituting gold coin for [illegible] subsidiary silver where [illegible] for gold as the wants of trade [illegible] would have been no depreciation [illegible] while its detriment would have [illegible] the country, and the value of paper [illegible] would have been lifted at least 5 per cent.

One [illegible] market is undisturbed so far this week. [illegible] on silver here is about 3 per cent, [illegible] the rule is by no means arbitrary with merchants, [illegible] only the bankers and brokers adhering to it [illegible] and enforcing it on all sums over the legal [illegible] of $5. [illegible] both at the bank and on the outside [illegible] are maintained on all loans and discounts, [illegible] but the volume of these is light for the season [illegible] accompanied by real estate security [illegible] upon a little more favorably by [illegible] and transactions of this character are [illegible] has been made in the past few days on [illegible] terms. Trade matters are making [illegible] on the money market.

Miscellaneous.

The relative positions of the leading ports of the United States as regards foreign trade in 1875 were as follows: The combined export and import trade of New York amounted to nearly 670 millions; the [illegible] of Boston amounted to 81 millions, of Philadelphia to 82¼ millions; of Baltimore to about the same sum; of San Francisco to nearly 67 millions and of New Orleans to 88¼ millions.

The Bank of France has in circulation 2,463,800,000 francs, and in its vaults specie to the amount of 1,776,741,000 francs, or 721 francs of gold to every 1000 francs of paper in circulation. This gold accumulation is said to be the largest ever got together anywhere.

E. Detrick & Co., of San Francisco, have issued the following circular to exporters of grain "For the last three years and more, we have been engaged [illegible] by improvements in machinery and [illegible] attention to manufacture, to prove that for [illegible] bags an [illegible] seam with a lock stitch was [illegible] and [illegible] reliable than the common over hand seam. That we have succeeded in this and effectually broken down the old prejudice in favor of hand-sewed bags, is now scarcely controverted.

The first Portland cement works in the United States are soon to be put in operation at Kalamazoo, Michigan. This cement takes its name from its resemblance to the celebrated stone quarried on Portland island, England. It is used in the construction of piers, docks, caissons—in fact, nothing can take its place in underwater masonry. The value of these works may be inferred from the fact that we import annually from England and Germany over 1,000,000 barrels of this cement.

During April there were thirty-seven marine disasters in which this country was directly or indirectly interested. The loss, exclusive of cargoes, amounted to over $500,000, the greater portion of which was covered by insurance. The list embraces 22 schooners, 6 brigs, four barks, 3 ships and 2 steamers. The losses in which San Francisco had an interest consist of the ship Victory, from Shields with coal, and wrecked off the Atlantic coast; ship Alcatraz, August 7th, with wheat for Liverpool, reported missing, but regarded as lost with all on board, as she was never spoken after leaving port; bark Liberator, from Manila for this port, with a cargo of sugar, wrecked off the coast of Japan; brig Crimea, wrecked at San Buenaventura; and schooners Albert & Edward, William Sutton and Uncle Sam, lost or missing while in the Northern coast trade.

The Wool Market.

Inquiry in regard to this branch of trade develops the fact that the volume of receipts at this point so far has been very light. Wool growers generally in the valley have not begun to shear yet, though a good deal has been done in this line in Eastern Oregon. From more than one point in this State we learn that growers either as grangers or in other organized forms are making preparations to obtain better prices than are yet offered by dealers in this market, or to ship their product elsewhere, and sell it on their own account. We learn that all proper methods to obtain high prices will be crowned with success, but we do not see much in our advices from abroad to indicate any early improvement of the market either here or elsewhere. The Commercial Herald of the 8th inst. describes the market in San Francisco as but little better than our own as far as prices are concerned, the bulk of sales in that city made last week having been between 12½c and 18c ℔ ℔. The Herald says: "The demand has been for a choice long staple, scattering burrs on the skirts, which have been taken within the range of 15@16c, good condition San Joaquin valley at 14@15c, and northern fleece at 15@18. Not a great deal of northern has been received. Coarse and medium of all kinds are slow of sale, the demand being almost entirely for fine qualities. The stocks on hand are very large, but as the clip is more than half in we may expect lighter receipts from this time forward. Taken as a whole, the clip in condition does not average up to last year. We have had a great deal of good wool, but the quantity of scabby, seedy, and defective has been very large. There has been a great deal of carelessness in packing wool this season. The buyers adhere strictly to the rule to reject all unmerchantable wool on the grading floor, and the grower who packs in defective wool with his clip in the end is made the sufferer."

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Gussie Telfair with coal as principal freight, arrived from Puget Sound this morning.

The brig Orient, with 480 tons of miscellaneous merchandise from San Francisco, arrived at 9 o'clock this morning, in tow of the tug Brenham.

The steamship Gussie Telfair is announced to sail for Nanaimo and Puget Sound ports at 6 o'clock to-morrow evening.

The steamship California from Sitka and way ports, has arrived.

The ship S. G. Reed sailed from Hongkong for Portland April 8th with Chinese passengers and merchandise.

The bark Garibaldi cleared from the port of Hongkong for Portland on the 12th of April.

The Modoc, now loading at Knappton, will carry a valuable cargo of lumber outward.

The steamship John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, arrived at a late hour this evening.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful like on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again. THOMAS CROSS.

Sealed Proposals

WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE SUPERINTENDENT of the Oregon State Penitentiary, at his office in Salem until 6 o'clock P. M., June 17, 1876, (which said proposals will be opened in presence of the Governor and Secretary of State at 3 o'clock P. M., June 19, for leasing to the highest bidder the labor of thirty five convicts for a period of not exceeding four years.

Said labor to be performed within the Prison enclosures, and the convicts to be subject to Prison discipline, and rules, viz: seven working hours from Oct. 1st to April 1st, and ten working hours from April 1st to Oct. 1st of each year, with entire exemption from labor each and every Saturday afternoon.

No bid for less than 50 cents per day will be considered. Payment required quarterly in U. S. gold coin. Bonds for 5 per cent. of the amount involved in the proposal, to accompany each bid as guarantee of fulfillment of contract if accepted.

Among the 35 men are four blacksmiths. Also, the State will furnish blacksmith's tools and shop room, free of charge, and will enlarge the premises if sufficient men are let to justify so doing.

A GOOD WASHING MACHINE.

COMPLETE WASHER

WITH GREAT SATISFACTION WE TESTIFY to the wonderful qualities of the "COMPLETE WASHER" Machine, which is in use by many of the best families in our city because it makes the wash day one of pleasure, and causes no wear on clothing or tire to operator. It is by excessive and exhaustive labor by the women of our land who are toiling all day long on an ordinary family washing in the hot suds wearing away their knuckle bones and very lives every week in the year, and going out from the seething tub to the cold air, which causes our mothers, sisters and loved ones to take cold so easily causing pains in the back and limbs, rheumatism, pleurisy, chills and fever, etc., sometimes resulting in death. Ladies rescue yourselves from this thraldom and purchase a "Complete Washer," the Premium Washer of our land, which economizes time and does away with this excessive labor, for you know that for one to handle by hand large articles, such as quilts, etc., that it is exceedingly difficult by the old mode. We advise and entreat everybody therefore to have one of these Machines. They are within the reach of every family.

Best of Wringers and Clothes Lines always on hand.

Of the great number who have this Machine in Oregon and on the Pacific slope, not one would part with it. Hundreds and thousands of such testimonials could be gotten.
